2017 Property Tax Appeal - Gunnison County Board of Equalization

Submitted to Gunnison County Board of Equalization via certified mail sent 9-12-2017.

This appeal is for all of the tax accounts listed below which together comprise the vacant land for Affordable Housing In the Van Tuyl Village subdivision in Gunnison Colorado

Overview and basis for appeal:

While the entire Gunnison Valley is aware of the serious need to create affodable housing in our valley, recent actions taken by two of our local government agencies have actually hurt the ability of the private sector to create the housing. The City of Gunnison, despite objections from the building community, chose to mandate that individual sprinkler systems be installed in townhomes, despite the use of proven wall systems that slow the spread of fire, and despite the presence of smoke alarms and a nearby Fire Department. This mandate requires substantial cost and ongoing maintenance expense for what is intended to be " Affordable Housing". This decision should be recinded by the City of Gunnison. Support by the BOE to influence the recision of the costly new Building code requirement would be appreciated.

The Gunnison County Assessor has determined to remove "present worth discounting" from our vacant land and cause us to lose the statutory benefit for developers that lowers property taxes on unbuilt land. We met with the Assessor's office to question the Notice of Valuation which tripled our tax value at 1-1-2017 and they were very pleasant in explaining that they had correctly followed the formula for calculating the "Percent Complete" of the Van Tuyl Subdivision. They shared with us the Real Property Valuation Manual for the State of Colorado and how they reached their percent complete calculation.
We did not receive a copy of their calculation, but it results in their determination that the Van Tuyl Subdivision is over 80% complete.
Once a Subdivision is determined to be 80% complete, then the "present worth discounting" for the subdivision vacant land is removed.

We request that the BOE determine that an appropriate valuation calculation for our " competitive environment" could be to consider our project as if it was a PUD as described in the Property Valuation Manual. The Van Tuyl Village as originally platted contained 61 single family lots, 18 multifamily lots and one large commercial lot that was subsequently replatted into several more lots and would thus not be included in the percent complete calculation. As a PUD, the project at 1-1-2017 would have 25 units being built out of a total of 94 planned units, 27% complete. We plan to build 12 units per year until the project is completed , so to grant our appeal will result in a few more years of "present worth discounting"

In conclusion:

We ask that the BOE direct that the Assesor's Office reinstate a 73% "present worth discount" as of 1-1-2017 for the remaining vacant land in the Van Tuyl Subdivision and require the " as if a PUD" calculation be used in future years.

Our efforts to restart the Van Tuyl Village Affordable Housing project after moth balling the project for 8 years have been met with new regulations that have substantially increased construction and maintenance costs. We have also had our statute created developer benefit for holding vacant land eliminated by the County Assessor despite our supportable objection and replacement calculation.
The Board of Equalization has an opportunity to support Affordable Housing by supporting our appeal and by contibuting support to influence the recision of the fire system building code recently adopted by the City of Gunnison.

Thank you for your consideration of our appeal. Karen Stock and Alan Wade members of SW Ventures LLC the Developer of Van Tuyl village Affodable Housing.

We met with the Assessor's office to question the Notice of Valuation which tripled our tax value at 1-1-2017 and they were very pleasant in explaining that they had correctly followed the formula for calculating the "Percent Complete" of the Van Tuyl Subdivision. They shared with us the Real Property Valuation Manual for the State of Colorado and how they reached their percent complete calculation.
We did not receive a copy of their calculation, but it results in their determination that the Van Tuyl Subdivision is over 80% complete.
Once a Subdivision is determined to be 80% complete, then the "present worth discounting" for the subdivision vacant land is removed.

We request that the BOE determine that an appropriate valuation calculation for our " competitive environment" could be to consider our project as if it was a PUD as described in the Property Valuation Manual. The Van Tuyl Village as originally platted contained 61 single family lots, 18 multifamily lots and one large commercial lot that was subsequently replatted into several more lots and would thus not be included in the percent complete calculation. As a PUD, the project at 1-1-2017 would have 25 units being built out of a total of 94 planned units, 27% complete. We plan to build 12 units per year until the project is completed , so to grant our appeal will result in a few more years of "present worth discounting"

In conclusion:

We ask that the BOE direct that the Assesor's Office reinstate a 73% "present worth discount" as of 1-1-2017 for the remaining vacant land in the Van Tuyl Subdivision and require the " as if a PUD" calculation be used in future years.
Our efforts to restart the Van Tuyl Village Affordable Housing project after moth balling the project for 8 years have been met with new regulations that have substantially increased construction and maintenance costs. We have also had our statute created developer benefit for holding vacant land eliminated by the County Assessor despite our supportable objection and replacement calculation.
The Board of Equalization has an opportunity to support Affordable Housing by supporting our appeal and by contibuting support to influence the recision of the fire system building code recently adopted by the City of Gunnison.
Thank you for your consideration of our appeal. Karen Stock and Alan Wade members of SW Ventures LLC the Developer of Van Tuyl village Affodable Housing.

Submitted to Gunnison County Board of Equalization via certified mail sent 9-12-2017.

This appeal is for all of the tax accounts listed below which together comprise the vacant land for Affordable Housing in the Van Tuyl Village subdivision in Gunnison Colorado

Overview and basis for appeal:

While the entire Gunnison Valley is aware of the serious need to create affodable housing in our valley, recent actions taken by two of our local government agencies have actually hurt the ability of the private sector to create the housing. The City of Gunnison, despite objections from the building community, chose to mandate that individual sprinkler systems be installed in townhomes, despite the use of proven wall systems that slow the spread of fire, and despite the presence of smoke alarms and a nearby Fire Department. This mandate requires substantial cost and ongoing maintenance expense for what is intended to be " Affordable Housing". This decision should be recinded by the City of Gunnison. Support by the BOE to influence the recision of the costly new Building code requirement would be appreciated.

The Gunnison County Assessor has determined to remove "present worth discounting" from our vacant land and cause us to lose the statutory benefit for developers that lowers property taxes on unbuilt land. We met with the Assessor's office to question the Notice of Valuation which tripled our tax value at 1-1-2017 and they were very pleasant in explaining that they had correctly followed the formula for calculating the "Percent Complete" of the Van Tuyl Subdivision. They shared with us the Real Property Valuation Manual for the State of Colorado and how they reached their percent complete calculation.
We did not receive a copy of their calculation, but it results in their determination that the Van Tuyl Subdivision is over 80% complete.
Once a Subdivision is determined to be 80% complete, then the "present worth discounting" for the subdivision vacant land is removed.

We request that the BOE determine that an appropriate valuation calculation for our " competitive environment" could be to consider our project as if it was a PUD as described in the Property Valuation Manual. The Van Tuyl Village as originally platted contained 61 single family lots, 18 multifamily lots and one large commercial lot that was subsequently replatted into several more lots and would thus not be included in the percent complete calculation. As a PUD, the project at 1-1-2017 would have 25 units being built out of a total of 94 planned units, 27% complete. We plan to build 12 units per year until the project is completed , so to grant our appeal will result in a few more years of "present worth discounting"

In conclusion:

We ask that the BOE direct that the Assesor's Office reinstate a 73% "present worth discount" as of 1-1-2017 for the remaining vacant land in the Van Tuyl Subdivision and require the " as if a PUD" calculation be used in future years.
Our efforts to restart the Van Tuyl Village Affordable Housing project after moth balling the project for 8 years have been met with new regulations that have substantially increased construction and maintenance costs. We have also had our statute created developer benefit for holding vacant land eliminated by the County Assessor despite our supportable objection and replacement calculation.
The Board of Equalization has an opportunity to support Affordable Housing by supporting our appeal and by contibuting support to influence the recision of the fire system building code recently adopted by the City of Gunnison.

2017 Property Tax Appeal - Gunnison County Board of Equalization

Submitted to Gunnison County Board of Equalization via certified mail sent 9-12-2017.

This appeal is for all of the tax accounts listed below which together comprise the vacant land for Affordable Housing in the Van Tuyl Village subdivision in Gunnison Colorado

Overview and basis for appeal:

While the entire Gunnison Valley is aware of the serious need to create affodable housing in our valley, recent actions taken by two of our local government agencies have actually hurt the ability of the private sector to create the housing. The City of Gunnison, despite objections from the building community, chose to mandate that individual sprinkler systems be installed in townhomes, despite the use of proven wall systems that slow the spread of fire, and despite the presence of smoke alarms and a nearby Fire Department. This mandate requires substantial cost and ongoing maintenance expense for what is intended to be " Affordable Housing". This decision should be recinded by the City of Gunnison. Support by the BOE to influence the recision of the costly new Building code requirement would be appreciated.

The Gunnison County Assessor has determined to remove "present worth discounting" from our vacant land and cause us to lose the statutory benefit for developers that lowers property taxes on unbuilt land. We met with the Assessor's office to question the Notice of Valuation which tripled our tax value at 1-1-2017 and they were very pleasant in explaining that they had correctly followed the formula for calculating the "Percent Complete" of the Van Tuyl Subdivision. They shared with us the Real Property Valuation Manual for the State of Colorado and how they reached their percent complete calculation.
We did not receive a copy of their calculation, but it results in their determination that the Van Tuyl Subdivision is over 80% complete.
Once a Subdivision is determined to be 80% complete, then the "present worth discounting" for the subdivision vacant land is removed.

We request that the BOE determine that an appropriate valuation calculation for our " competitive environment" could be to consider our project as if it was a PUD as described in the Property Valuation Manual. The Van Tuyl Village as originally platted contained 61 single family lots, 18 multifamily lots and one large commercial lot that was subsequently replatted into several more lots and would thus not be included in the percent complete calculation. As a PUD, the project at 1-1-2017 would have 25 units being built out of a total of 94 planned units, 27% complete. We plan to build 12 units per year until the project is completed , so to grant our appeal will result in a few more years of "present worth discounting"

In conclusion:

We ask that the BOE direct that the Assesor's Office reinstate a 73% "present worth discount" as of 1-1-2017 for the remaining vacant land in the Van Tuyl Subdivision and require the " as if a PUD" calculation be used in future years.

Our efforts to restart the Van Tuyl Village Affordable Housing project after moth balling the project for 8 years have been met with new regulations that have substantially increased construction and maintenance costs. We have also had our statute created developer benefit for holding vacant land eliminated by the County Assessor despite our supportable objection and replacement calculation.
The Board of Equalization has an opportunity to support Affordable Housing by supporting our appeal and by contibuting support to influence the recision of the fire system building code recently adopted by the City of Gunnison.

Thank you for your consideration of our appeal. Karen Stock and Alan Wade members of SW Ventures LLC the Developer of Van Tuyl village Affodable Housing.

2017 Property Tax Appeal - Gunnison County Board of Equalization

Submitted to Gunnison County Board of Equalization via certified mail sent 9-12-2017.

This appeal is for all of the tax accounts listed below which together comprise the vacant land for Affordable Housing in the Van Tuyl Village subdivision in Gunnison Colorado

Overview and basis for appeal:

While the entire Gunnison Valley is aware of the serious need to create affodable housing in our valley, recent actions taken by two of our local government agencies have actually hurt the ability of the private sector to create the housing. The City of Gunnison, despite objections from the building community, chose to mandate that individual sprinkler systems be installed in townhomes, despite the use of proven wall systems that slow the spread of fire, and despite the presence of smoke alarms and a nearby Fire Department. This mandate requires substantial cost and ongoing maintenance expense for what is intended to be " Affordable Housing". This decision should be recinded by the City of Gunnison. Support by the BOE to influence the recision of the costly new Building code requirement would be appreciated.

The Gunnison County Assessor has determined to remove "present worth discounting" from our vacant land and cause us to lose the statutory benefit for developers that lowers property taxes on unbuilt land. We met with the Assessor's office to question the Notice of Valuation which tripled our tax value at 1-1-2017 and they were very pleasant in explaining that they had correctly followed the formula for calculating the "Percent Complete" of the Van Tuyl Subdivision. They shared with us the Real Property Valuation Manual for the State of Colorado and how they reached their percent complete calculation.
We did not receive a copy of their calculation, but it results in their determination that the Van Tuyl Subdivision is over 80% complete.
Once a Subdivision is determined to be 80% complete, then the "present worth discounting" for the subdivision vacant land is removed.

We request that the BOE determine that an appropriate valuation calculation for our " competitive environment" could be to consider our project as if it was a PUD as described in the Property Valuation Manual. The Van Tuyl Village as originally platted contained 61 single family lots, 18 multifamily lots and one large commercial lot that was subsequently replatted into several more lots and would thus not be included in the percent complete calculation. As a PUD, the project at 1-1-2017 would have 25 units being built out of a total of 94 planned units, 27% complete. We plan to build 12 units per year until the project is completed , so to grant our appeal will result in a few more years of "present worth discounting"

In conclusion:

We ask that the BOE direct that the Assesor's Office reinstate a 73% "present worth discount" as of 1-1-2017 for the remaining vacant land in the Van Tuyl Subdivision and require the " as if a PUD" calculation be used in future years.
Our efforts to restart the Van Tuyl Village Affordable Housing project after moth balling the project for 8 years have been met with new regulations that have substantially increased construction and maintenance costs. We have also had our statute created developer benefit for holding vacant land eliminated by the County Assessor despite our supportable objection and replacement calculation.
The Board of Equalization has an opportunity to support Affordable Housing by supporting our appeal and by contibuting support to influence the recision of the fire system building code recently adopted by the City of Gunnison.
Thank you for your consideration of our appeal. Karen Stock and Alan Wade members of SW Ventures LLC the Developer of Van Tuyl village Affodable Housing.
