

Gunnison County Historical Preservation
Minutes from March 21, 2007

Members Present: Dave Primus, Ruth Dolezal, Janice Vreeke, Laura Easley, Linda Card & LeAnn Mick

The meeting was opened by Dave at 5:15 p.m.. The minutes were read from the January and February meetings. The corrections were made and the minutes were approved as corrected.

The first item on the agenda was to introduce LeAnn. She is the new board member. We gave her a small over view of what we do and will update her as we go thru the agenda.

We are still working on the oral histories. Janice is going to talk to the ladies that use the recorder that we looked at once before and report back to us.

Dave let us know that the twin bridges are owned by the State of Colorado and he will do some more research so that we can try and get them on the local register.

Ruth and Janice have been working on the school project that Ruth put together. Janice sent an email to everyone and after some discussion it was decided that they would rework some of the document. We are going to try and get this put into a notebook format for the walking tour in June. We will also get it put on the website after everything is finalized.

May is historical preservation month. It was decided that we would have contest to identify Gunnison's most endangered places. We are also going to do picture sharing. Anyone with old photos can bring them in to have them scanned. We are going to see if Andie at the City can help with some of this. Dave is going to write an article for the paper and will bring it for us to look over at the next meeting. The article will cover the contest and also highlight what the commission has been doing. Janice offered to give her hand painted ornaments as the prize for the contest.

Laura showed us the notebook project that she started last month. The notebook shows the properties on the County, State and National register with pictures. She is also working on a couple of others. We will be able to use these notebooks at the walking tour in June. We asked Laura what she needed for the walking tour. She suggested that some kind of covering from the sun would be nice. We are going to talk to Andie at the City and see if they have anything and we will discuss it at the next meeting.

The mail was passed around. There was no further business to come before the board. Dave adjourned the meeting.
